

ALLIED DRIVE TRAPS NAZIS IN HOLLAND

Meandering Along the Main Stem
By WASH FAYETTE

The Record-Herald has been besieged with inquiries from parents who ordered pictures of their children from the Woltz Studios, Ltd., of Des Moines, Ia., wanting to know why their photographs have not arrived or when they may expect them. When they gave their orders about six weeks ago, they said, they were told the pictures would be sent them the first week in September. Naturally, they were concerned. While the Record-Herald is in no way connected with the studios, arrangements had been made for printing them in the paper, so we sought the answer for the delay. Here it is in a letter from Don R. Woltz, the head man:

"Due to the present emergency and WLB (War Labor Board) regulations, our labor situation has become increasingly serious. This, combined with the fact that cardboard is now classed as a vital raw material, often makes it impossible for our folder suppliers to furnish us with our full needs."

"Realizing we must maintain our usual fine quality of workmanship, we sometimes have to delay orders rather than make unsatisfactory or inferior substitutes. Please be assured that we are honestly making every effort to make shipment of all customers' orders at the earliest date possible."

For the same reasons, there will be delay in getting the engravings for reproduction of the pictures in the Record-Herald.

The nostalgia that sweeps over the boys in the service ever so often must be hard to take. Most of the time, they're too busy to get homesick . . . and that's fortunate. Then some little incident brings it on. They're all the same. Their letters tell a lot by reading between the lines.

Pfc. Leonard Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brown, has been with the army in the Caribbean area and now at Natal, Brazil, for more than two years. He was working in the Record-Herald shop when he enlisted nearly three years ago. I get letters from him every once in a while. Sometimes his spirits are high; sometimes they are not. He's like the others.

He had just seen "Home in Indiana," apparently in a show for men in the service at Natal when he sat down to write to his younger brother, Chester, Jr., in high school here. He was homesick and no mistake. Let me quote a few sentences and you'll see how "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

"The movie ('Home in Indiana') reminded me so much of home I had to write and tell you not to miss it if it comes there (it was here last July). The scenes in the fall when the leaves are turning and the corn is in the shocks, were the most beautiful things I've seen in a long time. You should have heard the fellows from Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana talking about them. Boy, what we wouldn't give to get back there this fall. As for the cute little doll in the picture, she's something to worship. If I had not come from Ohio, better known as 'God's Country', I would have said the whole thing was just something you see in the movies."

Leonard never was the sentimental type. But to him as to the others, "distance lends enchantment" . . . especially to home.

He wound up his letter with a few words of advice and encouragement by saying: "I suppose you're back in school now and out for football. I think you'll make a good player, but be careful and don't get yourself hurt. By the way, I'm going to be home sometime and I want to see a good report card. Be good and study hard."

It seems to me that letter tells a lot. And it should allay some of the fears about how the war is affecting the boys.

STREET FIGHTING QUIETS IN DENMARK, IS REPORT

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 20.—(P)—Street fighting and disorders which erupted in Denmark yesterday as Danes demonstrated against German seizure of government buildings and police stations were reported to have abated last night and latest advices from Copenhagen indicated that calm once more prevailed in the city.

Nazi Officers Being Saved for Another War

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—The German high command is urging Nazi-minded generals to save themselves and their subordinates as a nucleus for an army to launch a third war aimed at winning world leadership, a copyrighted front dispatch to the New York Herald Tribune declared today.

War Correspondent Joseph Driscoll, with American forces in Germany, said "proof of this plot to reconstruct the German army" was found in a secret document bearing the imprimatur of the supreme command of the armed forces of the Reich. It was prepared for distribution to Nazi-sympathizing officers down to division leaders, he said.

Driscoll quoted the document as saying: "Every member of the armed force must know that it is absolutely necessary to save the Officers Corps for the reconstruction of the Fatherland. The German officer is too valuable to be sacrificed, especially in hopeless situations. The officer's salvation through retreat is in the interest of the country. . . . We can prepare ourselves with fresh courage for a new later fight. In order to prepare for this unavoidable third contest for leadership of the world expertly, we need our officers. . . . Therefore, care has to be taken continuously so that the Officers Corps be maintained at the present strength. At the same time, certain company commanders are to be selected to remain with the troops and even to sacrifice themselves, if necessary. Such examples are necessary for maintaining the morale of the troops. Division commanders will select junior officers who are to die a hero's death."

Massive Red Offensive Is Under Way in North

PALAU ISLANDS SERVING YANKS DURING MOP-UP

Mystery Surrounds Loss of American Sub—Situation in China Serious

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
(By the Associated Press)

Palau's two southernmost islands were reported virtually in American hands today as Mitchell medium bombers took up the task of knocking out Japanese defenses in the southern Philippines. Only two isolated Japanese pockets on Angaur Island remained to be cleaned up by infantrymen of the 81st Division at the southern tip of Palau. The southern portion and most of the eastern coast of rugged Peleliu has been conquered by the First Division Marines, official announcements said.

(A later report from John Cooper broadcasting over combined American networks said all but the narrow northern end of the airport island had been conquered.)

U. S. Submarine Lost
Sinking of the first American warship in the Palau invasion was announced by the Navy in reporting the losing of three ships, including the mysterious loss of the submarine Flier. A cryptic Navy announcement indicated the Flier was either captured by the Japanese or sunk and part of her crew of 65 was rescued by other American craft.

It was the 30th sub lost from the undersea fleet which has torpedoed 931 Japanese ships, including a record bag of 29 announced yesterday.

Tokyo radio reported the submarine's victims included 750 prisoners of war, among them 930 Americans, aboard two Japanese transports torpedoed off the Philippines.

The Navy acknowledged the loss of the minesweeper Perry off Palau, with a small loss of life. The transport Noa sank after a collision with a U. S. destroyer. There were no casualties.

Air Assault Pressed
Cannon-firing Mitchell bombers, presumably operating from new fields on recently captured Morotai, started large fires at Buayan airfield on southern Mindanao. It was the first U. S. medium bomber raid on the Philippines.

Japanese indicated their fears of the U. S. air base 300 miles from the Philippines by making

RELIEF TO WAR-TORN EUROPE TO KEEP U. S. PLANTS BUSY

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—(P)—Reports presented to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration conference here indicate the huge relief demands of Europe will keep factories in the United States, Britain and Canada busy for at least 12 months after the collapse of Germany.

Figures presented by committees which already have begun to make allocations of supplies for the relief of Europe, present this picture of the principal needs to be filled:

Footwear—78,500,000 pairs of shoes and repair material for 48,000,000 more.

Clothing and textiles—UNRRA's requirements for the first six months will equal 69 percent

Germans Being Beaten Back into Trap on Baltic While in South Russians Surge Toward Yugoslavia — Finland Faces Tough Future After Getting Out of War

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—(P)—A massive Baltic drive, first phase of a supreme Russian autumn offensive, rolled the Germans back steadily today over the Latvian front, immediately menacing Riga and threatening to bring its fall at any moment.

Front dispatches said advance units had pushed deep into the city's defenses. The official communique announced an approach to within six miles as the Red Army edged in from three sides and brought artillery to bear.

In four days the Russian Baltic armies have captured nearly 3,000 communities in their smashing attack, which promises to clear all the Germans shortly from Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and pave the way for the remaining steps of the autumn offensive, expected to be bigger than anything to date. Developments may be expected from the Gulf of Finland to Yugoslavia.

The heaviest Russian attack in Latvia occurred southeast of Riga, with Gen. Ivan Bagration's forces smashing forward 25 miles on a 75-mile front, sending the Germans reeling back into the Latvian capital. More than 2,000 places fell in that area within four days.

The closest approach to Riga officially disclosed came with capture of Kekava, on the west bank of the Daugava (Dvina) River six miles south of the city. A Soviet communique said the Germans there lost more than 3,000 men.

On the Estonia-Latvia frontier Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's third Baltic army captured Valga, 60 miles east of the Gulf of Riga, in a drive that threatened to divide the German armies in Estonia from those to the south. Through Valga run five important railways.

Southward in Romania combined Romanian-Russian forces captured Timisoara, 20 miles from the Yugoslav border.

There was no official Russian word on action on other fronts, but Red army artillery kept firing at Warsaw from across the formidable barrier of the Vistula River.

Charles Sawyer Named Ambassador to Belgium

Charles Sawyer, who headed a group of Cincinnati and Lancaster businessmen that bought out the old Record-Republic and Washington C. H. Herald in 1936

Two years later, shortly after he had been defeated for governor by John W. Bricker, he disposed of his own majority stock in the Washington News Publishing Co., corporate publisher of the Record-Herald, to the Galvin interests of Wilmington and Lima.

Sawyer made many friends in Washington C. H. during those three years because he spent much time here.

Two other ambassadors also were nominated at the same time by President Roosevelt to serve in three countries newly liberated from their Nazi invaders and in others on the threshold of freedom, according to Associated Press dispatches received by the of the woolen goods turned out by the mills of the U. S., Britain and Canada; eight percent of the cotton goods, and 29 percent of the knit goods.

Farm machinery—186,000 tons.

UNRRA experts say the United States, Britain and Canada must be the major sources of supply until Europe's factories are running again, but this, they point out, does not mean these three countries must foot the whole bill.

The United States, for instance, has agreed to contribute 1,350,000,000, but only 10 percent of this—the cost of administration—need leave the country. Ninety percent, Director General Herbert H. Lehman told a press conference yesterday, probably will be spent inside the United States.

DEWEY PLEDGES SECURITY PLAN

No Man Indispensable, He Says of Roosevelt

By JACK BELL

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20.—(P)—Apparently untroubled by two escapes from serious injury, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey prepared to board a refurbished campaign train today for San Francisco and a speech there tomorrow night outlining a Republican program of "freedom and security for all."

Cheered lustily for his assertion here last night that there is "no indispensable man," the GOP presidential nominee promised to tell tomorrow's audience "the philosophy by which I believe we can achieve our two great goals for America, freedom and security for all."

SHELL-TORN BREST CAPTURED BY AMERICANS AFTER FIERCE FIGHT FOR BIG FRENCH PORT

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, the strong, stubborn garrison that had pledged Hitler to hold out to death ceased last night, Supreme Headquarters said. But there still was sporadic shooting likely against isolated pockets.

There was no immediate announcement of the number of prisoners taken from the garrison, which once numbered up to 18,000 men.

Brest has been under determined American assault since Aug. 6, when an armored column assisting in the sealing off of Brittany punched into the city, but then withdrew. Hundreds of tons of steel from bombs and artillery coupled with troop assaults finally beat down the enemy.

A German broadcast that Hitler had awarded one of the highest German decorations to Lt. Gen. Hermann Ramcke, enemy commander at Brest, indicated the value the German command placed on his stand, delaying by weeks Allied use of Brest to feed the armies battering in the doors to the Reich. The award was the oak leaves with swords and diamonds to the Knights cross of the Iron Cross.

Brest (Pop. 79,000) was the disembarkation point for 791,000 American troops in the first World War, and is the closest French port to the United States. It is 389 rail miles from Paris.

Its fortifications were started by Richelieu in 1631. The Germans made it a submarine nest. It is rated as one of the finest naval stations of Europe, with a mile of deep water quays and excellent deep water anchorages.

KILLER OF FAMILY IS INDICTED FOR MURDER

NEW LEXINGTON, Sept. 20.—(P)—Vincent Nash, 50, of Crooksville, was indicted on five first-degree murder charges by a grand jury yesterday in the ax slayings of his family.

Nash confessed, Prosecuting Attorney J. L. Meenan reported, that he killed his wife and four children Sept. 10.

The prosecuting attorney said he would ask the court to place Nash under a 30 days' sanity observation at Lima State Hospital.

POLICE CHIEF OF ROME TREMBLES AT TRIAL AS HE TELLS OF GIVING HOSTAGES TO NAZIS

ROME, Sept. 20.—(P)—His hands trembling, former police chief Pietro Caruso testified at the trial for his life today that Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, Nazi commander in Italy, had ordered him to furnish 80 Italian hostages for execution in reprisal for the bombing of an SS column.

The trial, delayed Monday by the lynching of the chief state witness, started today while Allied police stood watchfully by.

Caruso was Rome's police chief during the last four months of German occupation. He said Kesselring's order was transmitted through the former German commander in Rome, one Kappler. The 80 were to be executed with hundreds of others, he said. Testi-

Airborne Reinforcements Pour Into Low Country for Fourth Day in Row

By DWIGHT PITKIN
(By the Associated Press)

The mighty Allied airborne army today poured sky troops and supplies for the fourth straight day into the fight for the water barriers of the Rhine delta, thwarting German attempts to hold up the battle of Germany by suicide stands in isolated Atlantic ports.

Allied airborne troops and ground armor were moving at blitzkrieg speed in beating back the Germans in Holland on direct approaches to Berlin from the west.

The Germans suffered two major losses in their fights for Atlantic ports which they have attempted to destroy and make unusable while they dug in along the West Wall.

Allied headquarters announced that all organized resistance in the great Brittany port of Brest had ceased and German troops were cleared from the nearby peninsula to which the Brest garrison had withdrawn.

The channel port of Boulogne also apparently fell to the Allies. The communique said, "on the coast we captured the Citadel and Mont Lambert in Boulogne." Algiers radio said the Boulogne garrison surrendered.

Advance in Holland

"The advance of Allied forces in Holland has continued rapidly," the communique said. "Ground troops made contact yesterday with more airborne formations. Eindhoven is in our hands and our armored units have advanced nearly 40 miles to the area of Nijmegen."

The Germans took a beating in the air. Allied fighters and fighter bombers covering the airborne operations knocked down 26 enemy aircraft against a loss of nine fighters.

RAF heavy bombers kept up the assaults on communications centers feeding German forces in the West Wall which is now threatened at its northern flank by the big offensive in Holland.

In night operations the RAF pounded the twin towns of Munchen-Gladbach and Rheyd behind the Siegfried Line north of

MILITARY TRAINING IMMEDIATELY ASKED

Legion Suggests Congress Approve Legislation

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(P)—The American Legion today urged immediate enactment of a universal military training law.

A resolution adopted at the organization's annual convention suggested that congress approve legislation providing that "every qualified young American" should receive 12 months of army or navy training "at an age least apt to disrupt his normal educational and business life."

It recommended that such a statute should become effective when the selective service act expires, and that the program of military instruction be "integrated with the academic education" of the young men.

The delegates, endorsing the report of the Legion's national defense committee, also called for American retention of control of "such army and navy bases as may be deemed necessary for national security."

The convention declared the navy should be maintained in strength sufficient to meet successfully "any probable combination of hostile fleets."

Navy Secretary Forrestal said today "it may be cheaper to remain armed than to fight wars," and proposed prevention of future wars by universal military training, maintenance of a strong navy, and national knowledge of world problems.

He asserted in an address prepared for the American Legion national convention that although the end of the European war is in sight there remains "a man-sized job disposing of the Japanese."

MENTALLY ILL VETERAN PICKED UP BY POLICE

Apparently Escaped from Institution While Barefooted

One of those war casualties about which the public hears little—a veteran suffering from mental disorder as result of the horrors through which he passed while in the armed services, was picked up here by the police at an early hour Wednesday, and later returned to the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe.

The man was Peter Szebon, 25, of Elrama, Pa., who gave his name and address to the officers who noticed him and took him in charge.

After giving his name and address, Szebon refused to say another word, and all efforts of the police to induce him to talk were futile.

The dark-haired, dark eyed, slender youth simply closed his lips tight, would not look his questioners in the face except by occasional troubled glances, and paced back and forth in the city jail.

Chief Valden Long, believing that Szebon was a walkaway case from the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe, telephoned to that institution, and was informed at once that the man had left there Tuesday morning and efforts to locate him had been of no avail.

He was held here until an officer from the institution could come after him.

While no information was given as to his past, Szebon is believed to have been sent back from some battle zone where the ordeals through which he had passed were too much for the human mind and body to endure.

The man garbed in an old blue overall outfit and had makeshift shoes on his feet. He is believed to have escaped in his bare feet and fashioned the shoes himself.

BOMBER FORMATION PASSES OVER CITY

Dozen Flying Fortresses in Three Groups

One of the largest Flying Fortress bomber formations ever seen over this city, passed over about 9 A. M. Wednesday, and then wheeled southward a short distance below the city limits.

The planes were flying in three groups, totalling a dozen planes, and attracted much attention by their noise and size, as the formation was not over 2,000 feet in height.

Apparently the bomber pilots made this city the farthestmost objective from the Lockbourne base.

MASSIVE RED OFFENSIVE NOW UNDER WAY IN NORTH; TOUGH FUTURE FOR FINNS

(German broadcasts said the Russians had bridged the swift and wide Vistula north of Warsaw.)

There was reason to believe that the long siege of Warsaw was going according to schedule and that Marshal Rokossovsky was tightening pressure by the hour.

The capture of Valga in Estonia on the Latvian frontier was a major strategic victory which Izvestia said "opened the route to the Gulf of Riga."

FINLAND FACES FUTURE

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Stripped of her richest industrial territory and burdened with heavy cash reparations as the price of peace, Finland was dedicated today by acting prime minister, Ernst Von Born, to building up a new national existence "with the opportunities left to us."

Of immediate concern was the probably bloody task of removing German troops remaining in the country—one of the conditions imposed in the 23-point armistice agreement reached in Moscow yesterday with Soviet Russia and Great Britain.

"It is a serious matter that we have to disarm German troops in Finland and hand them over to the Allies," said Von Born in broadcasting details of the armistice to the Finnish people. "And this, although we have to prepare hastily for the (Finnish) army to return to a peace-time footing."

Stockholm reports which lacked immediate official confirmation yesterday said Finnish troops had moved against Nazi forces in northern Finland.

The armistice agreement implied at least a certain amount of Allied resistance in case of prolonged German resistance. The pact requires that airfields in southwestern Finland be placed temporarily at the disposal of the Allies.

The loss of territory to Russia was the sorest point to the Finns and the first item mentioned by Von Born in his broadcast review.

Declaring that "September 19, 1944, will be one of the hardest days of our history," the acting prime minister announced that the armistice called for immediate restoration of the Russian-Finnish border fixed after the 104-day winter war of 1939-1940.

SECURITY PLAN PROMISED BY DEWEY WHO ASSERTS FOR NOT INDISPENSABLE wreck which had delayed his arrival for several hours or to a narrow escape when the auto bringing him here swerved to avoid a truck, Dewey told a cheering crowd of about 7,000 persons here that in the making of "a people's peace" there could be "no indispensable man."

His campaign train was repaired overnight so that he could resume his journey south today.

A sympathetic throng rose to its feet stamping the wooden floor underneath and yelling itself hoarse last night when he declared:

"Let's have no more pretense about indispensable men. There are no indispensable men. If our republic after 150 years of self-government is dependent upon the continuance of one man in office, then the hopes which animated the men who fought for the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution have indeed come to nothing."

"The peace we seek," he declared, "must not hang by the reins of one man."

He said only one conclusion could be drawn from the record: "The New Deal can not be trusted. It will not keep its covenant with the people. This nation needs a change—and the time for change is here."

The vice presidential aspirant said that President Roosevelt subscribed "one hundred percent" to the Democratic platform of 1932, yet "within less than a year after he had been elected, he had torn up 'that covenant with the people to be faithfully kept,' and had adopted a platform in harmony with the views of his left-wing advisers."

The Bricker party's three special railroad cars rolled into this city early this morning after he spent six hours last night in industrial Pittsburgh, a Democrat stronghold.

There he told a crowd that the

FIFTEEN CASES AWAIT MEETING OF GRAND JURY

Investigators Meet Thursday At 10 A. M. To Take Up Probe

Fayette County's September grand jury will meet Thursday, at 10 A. M. (fast time) to take up the inquiry into 15 cases in which alleged offenders have been held to the grand jury for various crimes.

Witnesses are now being summoned to appear before the grand jury to testify in the various cases.

Following are the cases that will come before the investigators in the usual manner:

Eugene Williams, Pocket picking. Glenn Cooper, Indecent exposure. H. A. Smith, Pointing firearms, etc. Charles Huff, Obtaining money by false pretenses. Robert Morris, Reckless operation. John Reed, Howard Co. Destruction of property. Edwin Howard, Larceny. Franklin Dunn, Auto Stealing. Howard Co. Assault and Battery. Pearl Gilmore, Pocket Picking. Ross Pierce, Attempted Rape. Millard Gilmore, Destruction of Property. Paul Mabray, Abandoning Pregnant Woman. Gerald Coe, Breaking and Entering.

slender thread of personal acquaintance of any two or three men."

The New York governor's reference to the "two or three men" apparently was to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and Premier Stalin of Russia.

Greeted with a two-minute ovation, Dewey drew the biggest applause of his speech with this assertion:

"My opponent claims to be indispensable to peace and prosperity. In other words, he claims that the United States and the world cannot get along without him. He has chosen this as the issue of the campaign. I accept the issue and I challenge it."

"BROKEN PROMISES"

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 20.—(AP)—"The New Deal can not be trusted," Governor John W. Bricker said today, because its 12-year record is one of "broken promises" without parallel in American history.

The Republican candidate for vice president, speaking at the Pennsylvania Capitol, said the faith of the people in the present administration had been so seriously impaired that:

"They have come to the conclusion that the surest way to plan for the future is to observe what the New Deal says it is going to do, or what it is not going to do, and then prepare to meet the opposite alternative."

The Ohio governor, in a prepared speech released by his campaign staff, asserted the New Deal promised an "abundant life," security, economy and less bureaucracy. Where are they, he asked.

He said only one conclusion could be drawn from the record: "The New Deal can not be trusted. It will not keep its covenant with the people. This nation needs a change—and the time for change is here."

The vice presidential aspirant said that President Roosevelt subscribed "one hundred percent" to the Democratic platform of 1932, yet "within less than a year after he had been elected, he had torn up 'that covenant with the people to be faithfully kept,' and had adopted a platform in harmony with the views of his left-wing advisers."

The Bricker party's three special railroad cars rolled into this city early this morning after he spent six hours last night in industrial Pittsburgh, a Democrat stronghold.

There he told a crowd that the present national administration had failed to "break a decade of depression."

FOUR ARE FINED BY JUDGE SITES

Three Women Included in List Of Offenders

Four persons, three of them women, were fined in Judge R. H. Sites' Court when found guilty of disorderly conduct charges.

Mrs. Viola Bryan, Mrs. Hazel Hamilton and Harve Bryan, facing charges filed by Clarence Timmerman, each drew $10 and costs Tuesday when arraigned on the charges. The cases grew out of trouble at the Bryan home on Campbell Street, police said.

Mary Rumer, on a disorderly conduct charge was Wednesday morning fined $16.20. The charges were filed by Elizabeth Zimmerman, following trouble between the two women.

FUNDS RECEIVED BY COUNTY AUDITOR

Townships Share $3739.70 From Gas Tax

County Auditor Ulric T. Acton has received two sums from the State, for use in the county.

The first fund is $3,739.70 from the gasoline tax, which is from the 17.5 percent fund, and this is to be divided equally among the townships, $373.97 going to each township.

The other fund is from the sales tax money collected by the state, amounting to $1368, and is for local government purposes.

Nazis Being Cut Off

British Second Army armor threw a 50-mile long cut-off wall across eastern Holland in 48 hours. It merged solidly with parachute-gliders soldiers dropped near Nijmegen on the Waal Rhine. The British were apparently battling on to link with still other sky troops 10 miles farther north on the upper branch of the river near Arnheim.

The Siegfried Line was being outflanked. The path was opening for a wheeling offensive across the flatlands of northern Germany. Nazis in southwestern Holland were menaced with entrapment.

The whole Netherlands front was developing into a potential vast new trap for the enemy. The lower Rhine defenses had been turned by the assault from the sky and the ground power-drive of the British. Allied warplanes battered at a German rush of reinforcements into the Netherlands and other points along the front.

With the British push underway, Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, in overall command of ground armies on the northern front, declared there was "no doubt" the war against Hitler would end this year.

Gothic Line Breached

In Italy American troops of the Fifth Army have breached the Germans' Gothic line in a six-mile front above Florence after a week of intensive fighting and struck within three miles of the important road center of Firenze, headquarters announced today.

Storming steep mountain slopes, American troops went the heights of Castle Guerrino and Lacroce and penetrated well into the heart of the Gothic defenses 22 miles northeast of Florence.

Front line dispatches to the U. S. army newspaper Stars and Stripes said the gains through the rugged mountains "cost us an uncomfortable number of losses."

The official announcement said, "although no large scale breakthrough is apparent, the Fifth army penetrated against defenses which are stronger than any yet encountered in Italy."

On the east coast, units of the British Eighth army battered within rifle range of Rimini, gateway to the Po valley.

On the flanks of the Americans, Brazilian, South African, British and Indian infantry also sealed mountain strongholds and came to grips with the enemy at close quarters.

"The capture of the most important hill features within the past 48 hours threatens the whole enemy position," it was commented officially at Fifth army headquarters.

SWEET CLOVER SEED IS ON INCREASE IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Ohio crop reporting service said today sweetclover seed production in the United States this year would approximate 597,700 bushels of thresher-run seed, compared with 428,200 bushels in 1943 and the ten-year average of 905,710 bushels. Ohio's production will be ahead of last year's, the service said, but state figures were not given.

Future German Resistance

It is possible, as some commentators have begun to declare, that the Nazis may be able to continue fighting desperately long after Germany has been invaded, the theory being that they may organize for guerrilla warfare in the manner of the Yugoslavs, but on a greatly magnified scale. There are some factors in the picture, however, that argue powerfully to the contrary.

To begin with, the armies of Germany are now in the process of being mangled and destroyed—so much so that they seem incapable of making a truly protracted stand anywhere outside the borders of the Reich. Chief reasons for this are that they have been overwhelmingly attacked by land and air from every direction, that they are at the bottom of the barrel as far as reserves go, that their lines of supply have been cut to pieces and that they are up against a combination of armed power so immense that they apparently can no longer wage positional warfare against it but must simply keep on trying to avoid entrapment in vast battles of maneuver.

It appears reasonable to suppose in the circumstances that once the walls of Germany itself are breached and our Allied armies pour in, the same thing that has been happening in France and in Eastern Europe will begin to happen there. That is to say, the remainder of the enemy's divisions will face the prospect of being systematically chopped up, caught in pockets, cut off from supplies and punished in so many other ways that they will at length be reduced to impotence, so that the Reich may well be given up to our forces in much the same way and quite as rapidly as France is being given up now. As for guerrillas, any analogy between the Germans and the Yugoslavs seems seriously open to question because, unlike the Yugoslavs who have had to face only relatively minor Nazi detachments and who have been able to count upon eventual liberation with our help, the Germans will have no allies anywhere and will scarcely find it very useful to stage hit-and-run raids in their occupied land against the combined might of Britain, Russia and America.

And over and above these military considerations, there is the human factor. Despite the bestiality of element among them, the German people are made of ordinary flesh and blood and they can stand just so much and no more. Since long before 1939, they have been denying themselves butter for guns. And since the start of the war, constantly blockaded, they have seen their cities blasted to rubble and millions of their sons lost. In body, mind and spirit, their fatigue must by this time be enormous, made all the more unbearable now that they know our Allied armies are poised to invade their own soil and that most of Europe has been wrested from them, making imminent the time when they will be starved not only for the raw materials of armaments but for food as well.

It seems to be crediting the Gestapo and Hitler's SS troops with an exaggerated degree of power to suggest that this home front—honeycombed by millions of hostile foreign workers—can be rallied behind any protracted struggle. All things consid-

String Champion Unstrung by War

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—For a long time Carl Schamoni, proprietor of a barber college, has gone unchallenged as a champ string saver with his 79-pound ball wound together in the last 14 years. Now comes a Bismarck, U. D., string saver, Earl Schwartz, with a 112-pound ball, rolled up since 1927. The perturbed Schamoni cannot catch up until the war is over and string becomes plentiful again.

Today's Horoscope

If your birthday is today, you are individual and original. You always do the unexpected in an unusual way. You are welcome in the society of cultured people. You like personal attention, and can be led by someone who understands you. This is an auspicious anniversary for you, particularly if doubtful investments are eschewed. It will be excellent for military, engineering, medical and literary activities. Business and travel are well signified. Born today a child will possess a well-balanced temperament, a shrewd mind and subtle intellect, while determination and hard work promise realization of ambitions.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. Scrub a deck.
2. Little brick ovens at the side of the open fireplace for baking.

De Gaulle's Rights

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who continues to crowd into the news, is not a great soldier or a statesman, but only an effective agitator in behalf of the French nation. In this country we would probably call such a man an inspired press agent. He has been so useful in this role that the French people in general now regard him as their spokesman. Thus he cannot be ignored by the Allies. And in spite of rebuffs, he always bobs up again serenely insisting on being heard, and pressing what he regards as his country's legitimate claims.

Thus he naturally tried to "horn into" the Roosevelt-Churchill conference in Quebec from his observation post in France, saying: "We believe it is in the better interests of all mankind that the arrangements which tomorrow will govern the fate of conquered Germany should not be discussed and adopted without France, because there is no power more interested than France in what concerns the neighbor with whom she has had for more than 2,000 years to occupy herself more than with any other."

When he puts it like that, his logic is hard to ignore. And even though his name were spelled "Gall," it seems as if he has a right to participation in matters that especially concern his country.

Never leave a grindstone exposed where mosquitoes can use it.

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — One of the little discussed, but interesting speculations coming out of the Dumbarton Oaks Conference is where the headquarters of the World Peace Organization will be located. There's no doubt that Geneva, Switzerland, still has the inside track but it's receiving considerable opposition from those who feel that locating the organization there will tar it with the brush of the League of Nations.

So far the only city in the United States that has made a bid for it has been Detroit, Mich. The bid has been brought here by Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, of Grosse Pointe Park.

It seems that the Detroit convention and tourist bureau has sent to the city council and Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., a proposal to build a $1,000,000 "peace palace" on Belle Isle, in the Detroit river, as permanent headquarters for the new international league.

Mr. Rabaut thinks this would be an "ideal location because of Detroit's cosmopolitan citizenry and its position at the crossroads of the new hemispherical world created by the airplane." That's the bang of the auctioneer's gavel. With the whole world in the picture this time, the Chamber of Commerce from Singapore to Hot Springs, Ark., probably will be in on the bidding. Detroit's "million dollar peace palace" may look like a novel compared to some blue-prints offered.

Rep. Clare Boothe Luce is being credited with this one. If all members of Congress who went to sleep in their chair during the debate on surplus war properties had been laid end to end, they would have been much more comfortable.

Charley Schaeffer, the Treasury publicist, has one of the better stories of the week. He went to get a pair of glasses.

The examining physician handed him a card filled with small print.

"Can you read that?" he asked. "Read it?" said Charley. "Man I wrote it."

It was an appeal to buy War Bonds that Schaeffer had turned out nearly two years before.

The big behind-the-scenes tug-of-war that's going on here now involves who will be No. 1 man in reconversion and demobilization. Although he has some formidable support, William L. Clayton, now heading the disposition of surplus war materials, isn't regarded as being in the overall picture. "Second President" James F. Byrnes could have it, but reportedly doesn't want it.

Guessers are now giving the rail positions to Chester Bowles, the man who has "popularized" OPA, and Judge Fred M. Vinson, stabilization boss.

Wisdom Teeth Useless

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

THE SMALLEST area of the human frame which has created for itself a medical specialty is the third molar tooth—or wisdom tooth. Comparatively the specialties of the eye or the ear and throat cover large areas, because both eye and ear specialists have to know a great deal about the brain, and besides the functions with which they deal, seeing and hearing are most intimately associated with human personality and happiness. But the wisdom teeth in spite of the name given them have nothing to do with wisdom or personality or brain function. They rate a specialty simply and alone on account of their all-fired inherent cussedness.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Wisdom teeth are really vestigial structures, but they don't know it. We don't need them, but they insist on climbing aboard and only too often, like extra passengers generally, they make trouble. Oliver Wendell Holmes, I think it was, said that we are each like an omnibus in which all of our ancestors are riding and every once in a while one of them sticks his head out of a window and embarrasses us. So with these vestigial structures—the appendix and possibly the tonsils are other examples, of value only to undertakers and surgeons. They are as out of date as dodo birds and fascists.

A hundred thousand years from now wisdom teeth may be really vestigial, like human tails. As a matter of common sense I am sorry that evolution took the turn it did and made tails completely vestigial structures. I was wrapping and tying a package the other day and a tail would have been very useful—to hold down the knots.

Semi-vestigial Third Molars
The third molars, upper and lower, are semi-vestigial because the jaw of modern man is not big enough for them. Our ancestors, the cave man or pithecanthropus, made good use of them. He had a large prognathic jaw and he probably cracked open bones with his teeth to get the marrow—so he needed big heavy ones. But in this day and age of the receding chin they are pure trouble.

They insist on coming in to the picture after all the other teeth are in place and a fellow is all comfortably set for life. At the age of wisdom, as some cynic supposed when he nicknamed them. They don't even begin to calcify in the jaw until the age of eight to ten years, while the first permanent molars are calcified at birth. And they don't try to push up into place until somewhere between the seventeenth and thirtieth year.

Often Impacted

Besides this they often get laid down sideways and when they start to grow they push against the roots of the other teeth and get impacted. They may grow out in any direction. One specimen shown in the rooms of the London dental society blithely came out on the outside just beneath the angle of the jaw.

In performing these gyrations they make all sorts of trouble. People at the age of "wisdom" who have neuralgia in either upper or lower jaws should think of an unerupted third molar as the cause. They may do even worse things. Upon records patients who had insomnia, melancholy and serious nervous disorders. Lyons reported four patients with epilepsy whose seizures entirely cleared up after removal of impacted, unerupted third molars.

The X-ray has really put the science of third molar surgery on the map, because with it the exact position and condition of the teeth can be seen. To treat the complicated cases really requires the services of an expert.

Answer: Yes, when it begins young the child often outgrows asthma, just as children outgrow infantile eczema, both diseases being caused in the same manner.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

ANNE WAS glad it was the imperturbable surgeon who had been flustered when they met in Washington. Dr. Raynor, and not she. He had begged to talk to her. She had pricked the bubble of his complaint conceit. She had shown him that his importance, his telephone messages, his telegrams, his conferences, meant nothing to her now. She could see he couldn't grasp how she was marrying Dan—Dan in his ill-fitting suit, his out-door look and long dark hair. Dan who looked in that place as if he had worked two weeks for a man who'd given him an old suit. She wanted Dwight Raynor to see all of it and how completely she had forgotten him and his world of success.

And once she felt he had seen and she had walked out of the hotel with Dan, the rest hadn't mattered. She had felt drained of strength and purpose as the taxi crossed the long bridge over the Potomac to Alexandria. If Dan really wanted to marry her, it was all right. At least he hadn't let her down during those precious minutes with Dr. Raynor. He had stood by her as she got back her self-respect. Her love for Dwight had been the biggest thing in her life. It had dominated her even before he told her he loved her. He had destroyed that love when he thrust her aside to marry money. It hurt more because money was so easy for him to earn. She had tried to run away from him memory, but it had always been at the back of her mind like a cloud shutting away the sun.

As she rode across the long bridge over the Potomac she felt glad of Dan Smith who held her hand. She would marry Dan and be happy with him for a few days and get Dwight Raynor out of her mind forever. She needed someone to love her, to hold her tight, to say he was crazy about her. Dan would wander off, of course, but that didn't matter. She would only need a few days to be sure of herself again, to be sure the love for Dwight was deadlier than death.

Those had been her thoughts going to Alexandria to get married. Now, sitting at her window, she could smile up at the moon. Dan had done his part. He had made her laugh while he made her forget. For a few days they had been happy. They had wandered off to the mountains and slept out one night under the stars. He had held her close and kissed her throat and begged her to keep on wandering with him. Tonight while dancing they had both laughed about it. She had told him the holiday was over and now they had to work. He had kissed her and then Russell had come in. There had been consternation in Russell's eyes.

She smiled. She wondered if Dan would tell Russell, but somehow she felt he wouldn't. They had decided nobody was to know, when she made up her mind to come back. He had said he'd follow in a day or two, but she had had no belief in his appearing. It wasn't that she didn't want to see him again, but merely that she didn't expect to see him. He knew it. They had both needed each other that day in Washington. She liked to feel it was not all one-sided. She had told Dan so tonight.

The moon went behind a cloud and a faint chill seemed to come into the room. She got up and opened her door. The house was very quiet. For a moment she hesitated, then she went downstairs and out into the street. The lock was on the door, but she didn't intend going far. Morris street was very quiet. The moon was bright in the sky again and the big trees cast shadows on the rough brick sidewalks. Most of the houses were dark. The fixed wooden awning at Jane Dorset's Town Shoppe cast a heavy shadow. A dog lying there got up and brushed against her, thrusting his cold wet nose against her hand. She wasn't frightened. She felt him as a kindred spirit as he walked alongside her. Every moment he would look up at her as if asking where everyone was and why they weren't out walking when it was so beautiful outside under the moon.

A fat man came along, singing softly, "Ah, moon of my delight." He smiled as he came up to her and stopped. "Isn't it a glorious night? I felt I couldn't sleep." The dog pawed him happily and he patted the silky head. He went on, "I'm sure you must be Anne Wilson. I just go here tonight. Eleanor Bancroft told me about you."

Anne was polite but indifferent. All fat men, tall or short, were clumsy to her. He seemed to block the road. She agreed it was a beautiful night, but was glad when he went off humming his song again. The dog, after a moment's hesitation, went along with him. She decided the man must be the writer who came to the inn. His choice of song indicated he was a sentimentalist. She was quite sure she didn't want to read any of his books.

The end of Morris street ran down to a wharf where small yachts tied up to refuel and children swam during the day. It was deserted now, or rather, she thought it was until she was actually there. Then she saw a tall figure leaning against a clump of piles. He came toward her and spoke softly.

"I thought it was you. I was hoping it would be."

She was not surprised. As with the dog outside the Town Shoppe, it was almost as if she had expected Russell to be there. She spoke very calmly.

"Mrs. Reynolds was all right. It was nothing much. She's asleep now."

Russell drew a deep breath. "I'm glad you came. I want to talk to you."

She turned her face to look up at the moon. She could almost feel the silver glow on her cheeks, as one feels sunshine. The idea made her smile. She was glad, too, that she had yielded to an impulse and come out for a few minutes. She hadn't wanted to talk to the fat man who sang sentimental songs, though she was sure he had wanted conversation. She had been in no mood. But this was different. Russell Smith had leanness and dignity—as Dwight Raynor had. She could look at him and feel glad Dwight had been swept out of her life. She felt very cool, very sure of herself.

"You might offer me a cigarette before you start scolding," she said lightly.

"I'm not going to scold. But I must talk to you."

He was very serious. His voice had a rich, mellow quality. As he gave her a cigarette and held a match she imagined him in court. She had always liked to imagine people doing their work. He fitted well into the picture, as he was interesting to talk to about books and general topics. She could picture him as she had Dwight Raynor in the operating room. Only there she had known him and worked with him. Only Dan couldn't be pictured doing anything in particular. Except sailing the boat and dumping her.

PACIFIC DIARY: PT-Boat Shower

By LARRY ADLER

Internationally Known Harmonica Artist

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC—We thought the trip by jeep last night in a driving rain was as tough as you could make it but we are just beginning to live. We couldn't get to our next base by jeep because the roads were washed out by the storm, so they elected to transport us by PT boat.

We wore ponchos and a fat lot of good they were! Within ten minutes Jack Benny and I were completely drenched. We drove to the boat in a rain so heavy that we could not see the road before us, but I don't think there was a road anyway. My spine tells me there wasn't.

Aboard the boat, Jack and the girls went below, which was a mistake. Those PT boats pitch like a bronco and everybody was seasick. I fared better, staying out on the bridge and just getting cut to ribbons by spray lashing across my face.

Capt. Lanny Ross, on the bridge with me, said he'd never be temperamental about singing conditions again. Salt water, sea air, all supposed to be dangerous, and in addition he was trying valiantly to smoke a pipe!

We reached our base after twenty knots of heavy weather and were taken straight to a hospital auditorium where about 1,000 patients were waiting for us. There was no time to change into dry clothes, nor were there any dry clothes to change into.

Five Birthdays In September Honored at Party

Five birthdays during the month of September were celebrated Sunday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaufman, those being honored at that time were Mrs. Luther King, Mrs. Calvin Johnson, Mr. W. A. Melvin, Miss Norma Jean Barpey of Columbus and the hostess, Mrs. Kaufman.

During the earlier hours of the evening, a covered dish supper was served cafeteria style from one large table, which was centered with a bouquet of roses, sent from Mrs. Kaufman's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kaufman of North Hollywood, Calif. The guests found their places at small tables, which were also centered with bud vases of roses.

Assisting the hostess during the supper hour were Miss Mildred Deiber and Mrs. Pearl Melvin.

Following the highly enjoyable hour spent at the tables, informal games and visiting were the entertainment until a late hour.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Luther King, daughters, Helen and Harriett, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Price, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Waters, Mrs. Paul Keefer, Miss Ann Moore, Mrs. A. F. Schradler, Mrs. Felix Halliday, Mr. Homer Moore, sons, Tommie and Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Melvin, Miss Mildred Deiber, Mr. Damon Deiber, from here; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ross, daughter, Mary Jane and Mrs. Inez Barney, daughter, Norma Jean, Columbus.

Porter Home Is Scene Of Gala Gathering Which Honored World Traveler

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Porter was the scene of a delightful family party honoring the return of Mr. Porter's brother, Robert C. Porter, from Bogota, Colombia, South America, where he has been employed by the government in the economic warfare division.

Those enjoying the evening with the host, hostess and guest of honor were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemmer, Miss Gayle Bowen, Mr. Arthur Rothrock and Miss Barbara Bush.

Mr. Porter has gone to New York City where he will visit friends. He will then report to Washington D. C., from where he plans to leave for Belgian Congo, Africa, in October, by plane.

Sailor Honored at Family Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ashbaugh of Bloomingburg were hosts at a basket dinner when their son, Norman G. Ashbaugh, seaman first class, was honored. The guest of honor recently returned to the United States after spending 13 months in the South Pacific.

Those enjoying the hospitalities with the honoree were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huchison, Mr. John Huchison, Mr. Harry Huchison, Mr. and Mrs. Harlyn Hopes and sons of Jeffersonville, Mrs. Harold Wright and daughters of New Holland, Mrs. Robert E. Huff and son, of Bloomingburg.

To Attend Canadian Wedding

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. H. J. Bowman are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barlett of Jeffersonville for ten days, coming from Richmond, Va. They also plan to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowman in Muncie, Ind.

Staff Sgt. Bowman is being transferred to Ft. Francis E. Warren, Wyoming and Mrs. Bowman expects to remain in Virginia for a short time.

They will attend the wedding of Pvt. Harold W. Bowman to Miss Joanne Horruzey, a member of the Canadian Women's

Marilee Garden Club Met Tuesday in Regular Session

Twelve members of the Marilee Garden Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Verne Wilson on the Good Hope road, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, for the regular business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Hugh Sollars, and an interesting and instructive program which followed.

Members answered the roll call by naming favorite garden spots in Ohio which they have visited. The program topic of the chairman, Mrs. Forrest Moon, was "Let's Explore Ohio."

Later the hostess served a tempting and appetizing salad course at one large attractively appointed table. Centering the table were two baskets of vegetables from the gardens of Mrs. Frank Rothrock and Mrs. Verne Wilson.

Crusaders' Class Meeting Is Held Monday Evening

Members of the Crusaders' Class were entertained for the September business meeting and social hour at the church on Monday evening. Hostesses for the affair were Misses Patty-rae Cabbage, Alice Davis and Christine Switzer.

Miss Mary Jane Hyer, class president, presided over the business session with reports read by Miss Marcia Highley and Mrs. Paul Thornhill. The class voted to help in the purchase of a new mimeograph for the church which will be used in printing church bulletins and other data and also decided to select a child at the Cleveland Christian Home to whom they will send gifts, toys and clothing at various times.

Following the discussion of other important business the hostesses promoted three clever contests and then invited the group to the church dining room where tempting refreshments were served at one long table attractively decorated in yellow and black crepe streamers which were placed criss-cross on the table and centered with a tall white taper in a colorful holder. Silhouettes of tools added to the appointments, with Labor Day as the theme.

Tuesday Club Enjoys Afternoon Meeting Here

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar graciously entertained members of the Tuesday Club at her home on East Temple Street, when nearly all the members were present for a most enjoyable afternoon.

Preceding the needlework hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Biehn, served a dainty dessert course at one large table and smaller tables. She used water-gardens of fall garden flowers as centerpieces. A most delightful social hour of visiting was prolonged in its gaiety.

Mrs. G. C. Kidner will be hostess to the members at the next session.

Postwar Plans for Pastel Mink Coats

Along with post-war plans, Dad will have one special post-war worry, for scientific cross-breeding by the United States Department of Commerce textile unit, will develop pink mink coats, lilac mink coats and blue mink coats for use on the market, according to Miss Anne L. Ash of that department.

They are not here now, which is lucky for Dads and husbands, but they are on the way. And (bad news for the man of the family) they won't be cheap. Remember, no mink is: Here's a suggestion for the ladies that will deepen Dad's gloom at this news: have a different mink coat to match each suit.

Coach Francis Schmidt Is Dead

Won Fame At Ohio State With Razzle Dazzle

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The big, quiet guy in the bow tie, whose football teams won three times as often as they lost, is gone from the football bench. Francis A. Schmidt, 58, died last night.

His wife, Evelyn Keesee Schmidt, survives.

A coaching career 26 years long and 175 victories high, which began in Oklahoma and left its mark in Arkansas, Texas, Ohio and Idaho, was closed with the death of Schmidt, who came to a hospital here from his home at Moscow, Idaho, two weeks ago. His physician said the coach's health had been failing gradually for half a year.

The University of Idaho, where Schmidt fielded his last team in 1942, failed to renew his contract last March. It had joined other northwest colleges in a wartime abandonment of football the previous autumn, but the coach remained over winter to help with the physical training of Navy students.

The Schmidt name became a football legend in the southwest. A graduate of Nebraska's law school, he moved into college coaching at Henry Kendall College, later Tulsa University, in 1915, and his teams startled fans with their, unorthodox, razzle-dazzle football. He moved on to Arkansas in 1922 and in 1929 went as football and basketball coach to Texas Christian, where Schmidt teams won two Southwest Conference titles in each sport.

Ohio State University took Schmidt into the Western Conference, where he picked up another crown and added to his victory list. Over the 26 years his teams lost only 57 games and tied 12. Never one to win by 99 points if he could win by 100, some sports writers called him "Shut the Gates of Mercy" Schmidt. The big guy never seemed to mind. Just kept right on winning.

Schmidt came to Ohio State in 1934 and his Bucks won one Western Conference title, tied for another and finished second three times, before he left in 1940.

He succeeded the late Sam Willaman and in turn was succeeded by Paul Brown, now coach at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Schmidt developed the wide open football game with more forward and lateral passes than formerly had been used in this section of the country. James L. Renick of Columbus, former athletic publicity director at Ohio State, said, "It was Schmidt's theory to outscore the other fellow and he stressed offense more than defense."

New World Mark For 2-year-olds Set at Delaware

DELAWARE, Sept. 20.—(AP)—A new world's record for two year olds on a half mile track was established by Titan Hanover who yesterday won the $5,000 feature of the day at the Grand Circuit harness race meet. He was driven by Harry Pownall.

The winner, which is owned by E. Roland Harriman of New York, won the first heat in 2:05 1/2 and then, in the final, led all the way in 2:03 3/4—the fastest mile ever covered on a half mile track by a two year old of either trotting or pacing gait.

Algiers was second in both heats but could not force Titan Hanover to his limit.

The 2:20 pace with a $1,500 purse was won by Royan, Jr. Main attraction today is the $10,000 race for three year old pacers.

API TEAM IS HONORED AT DINNER

With words of praise for the softball team still ringing in their ears, workers at the Aeronautical Products, Inc., plant here today were looking forward to the evenings in the not too distant future when they may cheer for their basketball team.

Members of the softball team and their wives were the honor guests at a banquet tendered them at the Country Club by the API.

Howard C. Newman, in the role of toastmaster for the after dinner program, gave a brief resume of the season which was described as successful from many angles. Although the API boys did not win the City League title, they gave a good account of themselves on the field and were runners-up in the final standing and were noosed out by the Wilson outfit in the double elimination tourney to decide the championship. The recreation provided both for the players and the fans, all under tension of high geared war production was regarded as main objective—and it was attained, Newman's resume emphasized.

After the chicken dinner, Newman called on members of the team who responded with impromptu remarks. Richard (Dick) Jacobs, the team's playing manager, said he had enjoyed coaching the team and revealed that already he was working on "bigger and better" plans for next year. The hearty applause signified the appreciation of his work by the players and fans.

Jerry Danielson, the team's business manager, gave the answer to a question that has been in the minds of API workers and followers of the hardwood sport when he disclosed that he has outlined plans for an API basketball team which will bring to Washington C. H. teams of a high caliber from other cities for games here. Possibilities for another City Basketball League remained somewhat obscure.

L. W. Turner, the factory manager, assured the athletic teams' members of the company's full support in all activities and J. Hively, the personnel director, put the gathering into an hilarious mood with some of his favorite stories.

Following the after-dinner program, the evening was spent in dancing, card playing and sociability.

Markets and Finance

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—AP—Corn was slightly higher today but other grain futures markets were weak with oats and rye breaking a cent or more in quiet trading.

There was only scattered selling in the wheat pit but the offerings were more than enough to supply the demand and the market hit new lows for the day near the close. Traders said heavy short covering the past several days had about exhausted buying power.

Local traders and Commission houses offered large quantities of September oats and a price at one September 25¢, cents below the previous close. The deferred deliveries were affected by the break.

The weaker wheat and oats markets accounted for the break in rye. Commission Houses were good sellers and the market's main support came from resting orders.

Commission Houses with cash connections bought corn for December delivery and the purchases led shorts to cover. Country offerings were small and the cash market was strong.

At the finish wheat was unchanged to 1/2¢ lower than yesterday's close, September $1.59 1/2. Corn was 1/2¢ lower to 5/8¢ higher, December $1.05 1/2-5/8. Oats were unchanged to 1/2¢ lower, September 64 1/2-5/8. Rye was 1/2¢ higher to 3/4¢ lower, September 55 1/2. Barley was 1/2¢ lower, September $1.06 1/2.

Japs Deny Peace Rumor

A spokesman for the Japanese board of information described as false today rumors which he said emanated from Stockholm that "Germany was seeking peace with the Soviet Union and Japan with the British and the United States."

A Domei dispatch broadcast from Tokyo and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, quoted the spokesman, Sadao Iguchi:

"Such rumors are too absurd to be taken seriously."

The spokesman added that they reflected war weariness in the United States and Britain. "It is the intention of the enemy powers to spread the peace rumor in an effort to alienate Japan and Germany," he was quoted.

Tigers Move into AL Lead Ahead of Browns and Yanks

By JACK HAND
(By the Associated Press)

Boston was practically eliminated, New York was tottering on the brink and St. Louis was a faltering second to the league-leading Detroit Tigers today after the most important 24 hours of the American League season.

Steve O'Neill's Tigers, who had never been on top until Sunday, had opened up a game and a half gap on the Browns by knocking off the Yanks in the opener of a crucial series while St. Louis and Boston lost.

Detroit's 4-1 victory over New York took most of the wind out of the champ's sails and disappointed the Browns who had been counting on the Yanks to help pull the Tigers back toward the pack. The Browns were shut out, 6-0, in 11 innings by the dungeon-bound Washingtons. Disaster struck Boston at Cleveland where the Red Sox lost 8-2.

World Series fever began to hit the Motor City with 28,290, the year's largest weekday turnout at Briggs Stadium, watching the

Brewers BEATEN IN PLAY-OFF

(By the Associated Press)

Third-place Louisville bounced flag-winning Milwaukee out of the American Association playoffs last night, but you can't tell the dejected Brewers that a post-season jinx and not the Colonels did the trick.

It was the second straight season the Brewers had roared off with the league bunting only to be eliminated in the first round of the playoffs. Last season, third-place Columbus dusted them off, three games to one, and last night the Colonels administered the finishing touch, four games to two. Last year's semi-final play-off round was best three-out-of-five games and this year it was best four-of-seven.

Louisville's clinching 7-5 triumph over the Brewers was the only playoff game staged last night, the Toledo-St. Paul contest at St. Paul, being rained out. The Mud Hens, leading three games to two, are scheduled to play the Saints tonight and if they win, they'll encounter the Colonels in another four-out-of-seven series for a berth in the "Little World Series" against the International League playoff winner.

If history repeats, the Colonels may go on to become "Little World Champions." After disposing of Milwaukee last season, Columbus eliminated Indianapolis in the final play-off round and then trimmed Syracuse of the International League.

home club move three full games in front of the Yankees.

St. Louis took a heart-breaking loss when Washington scored six in the 11th after blowing a chance in the last of the 10th when Denny Galehouse's single with the bases loaded hit base runner George McQuinn to retire the side.

"Pitching trouble ruined Boston again as Cleveland battered Red Cecil and two successors for 15 hits.

With Hal Trosky hitting three doubles, Chicago kayped Jess Flores with a pair of three-run innings to down Philadelphia, 6-3.

Pittsburgh at Brooklyn and a two-night doubleheader between Cincinnati and Philadelphia in the National were rained out.

Mike Signs Pep For Title Fight As Lewis Beaten

By FRITZ HOWELL

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 20.—

(P)—Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York's 20th Century Athletic Club watched Willie Pep, feather-weight champion, stop Charley (Cabe) Lewis in eight rounds here last night in a rainswept ring, and immediately signed the Hartford Flash for a 15-round title fight in Madison Square Garden September 29.

Pep's opponent will be Chalky Wright, Los Angeles, from whom Pep took the title in November, 1942, and who has earned his way back to a title match with a string of victories.

Pep was at his best in halting Lewis, the Cuban-born New Yorker, and he had to be. The Cuban forced the fighting all the way, took Pep's punches and landed plenty of his own, before running afoul of a murderous left hook in the eighth.

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Any pro football league than can get control of the Yankee Stadium and the Los Angeles Coliseum will have the upper hand in the furious post-war competition that is likely to take place . . . so far three leagues are projected—the All-American Conference, the United States League and the Trans-America League—besides the established National League . . . they're all planning to invade New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles, which also figures in the National post-war plans beside having three or four clubs in existing coast circuits.

Success Story

Herman Lewin, boss of the box office dept. for Mike Jacobs, had just finished reading "How To Win Friends and Influence People" when the author, Dale Carnegie walked in to buy seven $10 tickets to Friday's Joe Bak-Mauriello fight . . . A few minutes later Carnegie walked out with seven top-price $12 tickets.

Shorts and Shells

Has anybody noticed that one reason why Baltimore won the International League pennant was that the park, not the club, caught fire? . . . Two of the games postponed when the Baltimore ball park burned couldn't be played off and thus the Orioles, having played fewer games, finished .0007 ahead of Newark.

Medal Play

Don Boydston, former Oklahoma A. and M. track star, tied for top honors in the high jump 13 times during his school and college career . . . and "Boydston luck" became traditional when he called the toss of a coin correctly 13 straight times to win the medal or trophy . . . At Saipan Lieut. Boydston of the Marines was in an outfit which suffered 70 per cent casualties . . . Don was flattened by concussion from a shell and was unconscious three hours . . . "Boydston luck still holds," he wrote Coach Ralph Higgins, "I was okay as soon as my ears stopped ringing."

EQUAL DIVISION OF MONEY VOTED IN WCH SCHOOLS

All Employees and Teachers To Get $174 in Two Payments During School Year

Each of the 78 teachers and employees of the Washington C. H. school system will receive $174 during the school year, it was voted unanimously at the city board of education meeting in Superintendent A. B. Murray's office Tuesday night.

The money will be distributed in two payments—$87 next December 15 and another $87 May 15 on completion of the school year. Funds for the increase, which will not be added to present salaries, came from the state after passage of a special bill by the General Assembly.

The decision on just how the money was to be spread among the 78 for whom it was intended was not made without recommendations from the teachers themselves. A special committee appointed by Miss Margaret Gibson, president of the City Teachers' Association, met with Supt. Murray Tuesday after school and attended the board meeting Tuesday night to make suggestions as to methods of distribution.

The equal distribution was suggested unanimously as being more fair than a graduated schedule. Miss Marjorie Evans was chairman of the committee on which J. M. York, high school; Miss Marian Christopher, Central; Miss Amelia Pensyl, Cherry Hill; Miss Mary Jane Townsend, Eastside; Miss Madge Dawson, Rose Avenue and Miss Marie Hughes, Sunnyside, served.

Thomas Christopher moved the money be distributed equally in two payments and W. C. Allen seconded the motion. The board passed it unanimously after Ray Brandenburg, president of the board, asked for suggestions.

W. S. Paxson, Fayette County's representative to the General Assembly, said he thought the board here had interpreted the bill correctly—that the money is to be used during the 1944-45 school year. Paxson said before he attended the session that he was in favor of making the increase for all employees, not teachers exclusively.

The bill was introduced by State Senator Albert L. Daniels of Greenfield.

Extension course subject is named

More Enrollees Asked To Make Course Complete

The World Today, a discussion course using the New York Times as a textbook, is the extension course from Wilmington College which is to be offered here this winter.

Dr. Willis H. Hall, of Wilmington College, explained Tuesday night at the first class meeting in the high school the course would give two full semester hours college credit.

However, he emphasized the need for more students if the class were to be fully successful. At least four more enrollees are desired and a dozen more would triple the value of the course in that more opinions and theories could be brought out in class periods, Dr. Hall said. There are five enrolled now.

The course will be given in 15 consecutive class periods on Tuesdays from 7:30 P. M. to 9:10 P. M. All classes will be in room 110 of the high school building. The North North Street entrance of the high school is used to reach the classroom. Regular tuition

HEAT RETARDS CORN CUTTING

Crop Is Ripening Rapidly Due To Drought

The hot weather this week has definitely retarded the work of corn harvest in Fayette County and the heat, combined with the drought, has resulted in much of the corn ripening very fast.

However, regardless of the hot weather, great inroads are being made in cornfields wherever the work of placing the corn in the shock is under way.

Reports coming in from nearly all parts of the county state that the black ground corn is very good in most instances and that the clay ground corn is below half a crop.

The average in the county is still placed at half a crop, however.

WARNER FORFEITS BOND OF $14.70

Original Charge Is Changed By Highway Patrolman

Robert (Pig Iron) Warner, Columbus, whose gasoline coupons were taken from him for the duration of the war as result of a series of speeding charges filed against him, has forfeited a bond of $14.70 posted by his attorney here, Judge R. H. Sites said Wednesday.

The original charge of second offense, filed against Warner here by a state highway patrolman, was changed to a single offense, when it was learned that on the first offense Warner had posted $50 bond and failed to appear on the charge.

His gasoline coupons were suspended by the Westerville War Price and Rationing Board.

INTEREST GROWS FOR PARK HERE, SOLICITORS SAY

Campaign To Raise Money For $50,000 Development Progressing Steadily

Reports coming in from solicitors in the wards and townships of Washington C. H. and Fayette County indicate an enthusiastic interest on the part of the public in the campaign now underway to finance the Washington Park project.

With $38,000 to be raised for the $50,000 fund nearly 300 workers in the city and county have started in their assigned territory to secure contributions. It is realized by all that the job of raising this money is a big one but there is general agreement that a successful result will mean much to the future of the city and county.

Everyone contacted agrees that a well equipped park and modern swimming pool here, which will be available to all members of families, will be an asset of great advantage to the future of the community. The park when completed as planned will offer so many attractions that it is expected to become a community gathering place for many organizations as well as for individual use of members of families who will be welcomed at all times. Such a park, it is pointed out, will eliminate the necessity of trips to distant points for reunions, and other gatherings because it will offer every attraction for children and adults which any such place could be expected to have.

In addition to a sanitary and modern swimming pool properly supervised, there will be ovens and other facilities for picnics and sports. It also will be landscaped and thus made attractive from every point of view.

This park will be something permanent and every cent spent to make it inviting will go into local channels of trade. It will in no sense be conducted for profit and all money taken in will be used for improvements and betterments from month to month. This means that every dollar contributed will go toward a program which will be of much benefit to this entire community.

URGES COOPERATION
WILMINGTON — T. S. Townsley, chairman of the Clinton County Committee for Economic Development, is urging close cooperation in the study of surveys for the future development of Wilmington.

MERCURY REACHES 91 HERE TUESDAY

Lowest Point Monday Was 58 Degrees

Tuesday's peak temperature of 91 degrees was reminiscent of that record-breaking list of hot days during the early summer, when the mercury ranged from 90 to 102 on approximately 50 days.

The temperature was the greatest attained in recent weeks, and caused much discomfort.

The minimum Tuesday was 58 degrees and at 8 A. M. Wednesday the reading was 65 degrees.

BOY SCOUTS ARE PLANNING 2 DAY CAMPOREE HERE

60 Are Expected at Week End Affair from Troops All Over County

Boy Scouts from each troop in the county will pack their bed rolls and hike out to the Fair Grounds for a two-day camporee come next Saturday, X. L. Garrison, Boy Scout field executive, here, said today.

Earl Henderson, chairman of the camping and activities committee, is to be in charge of the expedition. Scoutmasters J. W. Yates, troop 170; David Whiteside, troop 116; Rev. John K. Abernethy, troop 64 and Clark Robinson, troop 67, will direct the activities planned for every minute of the time. Rev. Abernethy will conduct a sunrise service Sunday, also as one of the features. It is expected 60 will attend.

The opossum measures only about one-half inch at birth.

RIDERS ARE FINED FOR SPEEDING HERE

Police Start War Against Motorcycle Offenders

Joseph Aills and James Hunter, facing charges of speeding on motorcycles within the city limits, were fined by Judge R. H. Sites when they appeared before him Tuesday to answer to the citations.

Aills was fined $20 and Hunter $10. Judge Sites said Aills was without an operator's permit.

Citation of the two riders is the beginning of efforts on the part of the police to break up excessive speed and noise of motorcycles within the city limits, it is indicated.

She'd rather say "Yes!"

● These days your telephone service representative has to say "No" and "There'll be a long delay."

She would like to say "Yes" and "We'll put your telephone service in today."

But war has first right to telephone facilities and materials. Next comes service essential to public health and security. The equipment remaining for normal civilian use is jammed to the absolute limit. And there's a long, long line waiting for what few facilities are released by disconnections.

In many of these cases the wait for telephone service may last as long as the war or longer, as the close of the war will not solve our telephone problems.

That's why, today, your telephone representative must say "No" so often. But she's doing her level best to get service for you as soon as she possibly can.

If you have any questions about telephone service she will be pleased to have you come in and talk them over or you may call her.
